"Entered as Second Class matter, March 26, 1904, at the Postoffice at Ada, Okla., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879."

Bill Nutt, the newest Ada murderer, seems to be pretty hard to crack.—Shawnee Herald.

The entire state sympathizes with the beautiful city of Ada, whose name again prefeces a story of a brutal murder. It is indeed unfortunate that the town should be made the victim of so many crimes of a revolting nature, when her citizens as a whole are law abiding, enterprising and characterized by their hospitality.—Shawnee Herald.

The public is again called on to endure the re-opening of the famous Thaw-White case. In an action for the release of Thaw from the asylum, his wife was forced to testify and said that her husband had threatened to take her life if released. There is but little doubt that Thaw contributed a great deal to society in ridding it of White, and the state has lost an opportunity of making the riddance more effective by not sending Thaw to the electric chair.—Pauls Valley Enterprise.

Oklahoma: a region of manna and wild honey; where the farmer has only to niddle the earth with a straw to make it laugh a harvest; where the soil, expressed for the most part in a rich, brown loam needs neither phosphates nor irrigation, fertilized by Nature and the ages and watered by rivers and rivulets that milk the mountains of their crystals and flow thence in abundant streams of health and wealth; where the girls are almost as pretty as the Kentucky girls, the cattle even finer and fatter than the cattle of the blue grass; and where constitutions and constitutional law grows upon bushes and may be had for the plucking.—Henry Watterson.

DID NOT ASK BONUS.

The New State Tribune did not ask, nor did it receive, any bonus whatsoever for removing to Oklahoma City. About thirty citizens of Oklahoma City took about twenty thousand dollars of stock in the Tribune Company, just as any similar business concern might be organized or financed, nothing more, nothing less.

We mention this fact as some of the press evidently had a mistaken idea of the matter.—New State Tribune.

PONTOTOC MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

The Daily News-Democrat of Sulphur, offers the following complimentary mention of our fellowtownsmen, Judge Galbraith:

Pontotoc county may be the locality the democracy of Oklahoma will look to for its candidate for gubernatorial honors. The News-Democrat has heard the name of Judge C. A. Galbraith, of Ada, mentioned in connection with this honor frequently of late. In addition a number of influential democratic papers have contained complimentary notices of the gentleman. Judge Galbraith was in Sulphur several days ago and a representative of the News-Democrat touched upon the subject during a conversation, and while the gentleman bravely withstood the reportorial attack, he did not deny that the subject had been broached a number of times of late. He cleverly warded a direct response by asserting it was too early to announce whether he would engage in political strife or not.

Judge Galbraith is a democrat. He is the Hendrick's type of democracy, a native of Indiana. He came to Oklahoma in 1889, and for four years served efficiently as attorney general. He was named as associate justice of the supreme court of Hawaii, and his record was so satisfactory that President McKinley desired to retain his services, but Judge Galbraith being a democrat declined the honor. He ranks at the top as an attorney and jurist, is a clever orator and has a pleasing personality. The democracy of Oklahoma could fare much worse in the selection of a nominee.—Sulphur News-Democrat.

GROWING LAND HUNGER.

An impressive lesson as to the rapidly dwindling areas of public lands open for homestead and the tremendous scramble of people to occupy them, is given in the scenes that are being enacted in connection with the opening for settlement of the Spokane, Coeur d'Alene and Flathead reservations. At the close of the first day's registration over 28,000 applications had been filed, and it is estimated that before the expiration of the time limit at least 300,000 applications will be made for the less than 3,000 homesteads which the three reservations will amount to in the aggregate. Of course, quite a number of these applicants belong in the class of speculators, adventurers and restless spirits who make their applications in the hope of striking a lucky number and selling out at a handsome profit. But the overwhelming majority of the applicants are undoubtedly genuine homeseekers whose dearest desire is to obtain a farm and to settle down for life in the virgin country which offers them the opportunity to strive for their ideals of financial independence and domestic happiness. The scenes that have attended these openings of government lands in various parts of the country, even in a comparatively barren region in Utah, clearly demonstrate the fact that land hunger is increasing rapidly in the public appetite, that the American people are growing more and more to appreciate the value and dignity of proprietorship in the soil of their native land. The ownership of land from the beginning as the best title to solid respectability among all peoples, and the American people appear to fully realize this fact. When all is said about the isolation of farm life and the drudgery incident to the farmer's labors, the fact remains that the man whose feet are rooted in the soil, who owns the best of all natural resources for the acquirement of an easy competency, has a tremendous advantage over the landless rover who must depend upon his wits for a living, even to a reversal of the Scriptural version of taking in the stranger. A good piece of the earth always has been and always will be the best investment a man can make in the long run.

Kansas City Journal.

Mr. Richmond also has an acre of grapes which he will place on Ada's market soon.

Citizens who love their homes and county and are mad with murderers and desperados were not as conservative in their expressions yesterday and last night regarding the crime of the negro murderer of Frank Hatcher as under reflection they are today.

It is the most positive opinion of those Pontotoc county citizens who lead in love for the law and peace and antagonism against crime, that a lynching in this county at this time, under all the circumstances, would be absolutely ruinous to the future prosperity of the county and permanently sacrifice the respect of the people of the constituent counties of the state.

Though it is true not a word of criticism has been addressed to the writer regarding any item

or thing occurring in the News concerning the late tragedies,

it is now the deliberate judgment of the News editor, that it would have been much better, and decidedly more creditable,

had an item or thing or two been left out of late issues.

The sturdy citizens of the Hatcher neighborhood and other friends of the family and our citizens in general who revolt

at murder, and deeply mourn

the situation, will assuredly realize that a lynching in this county under the conditions now prevailing, would shatter the better prospects of many a

Pontotoc home and business.

Since the beginning of the series of murder tragedies in Pontotoc county, the presence of prospectors and investors in this rich and fruitful section has attracted much attention on account of their absence. All the people will consider with what destructive calamity the situation will be fraught should there be another lynch-

in this county.

But here-on-out, it is in the minds and hearts of the Pontotoc public to damn the criminals through the enforcement of the law.

ROCKY FORD CANTALOUPES

S. J. Richmond, Two and One-half Miles Northeast Has Five Acre Patch of Fine Melons—Marketing Them in Ada.

Truck farming in the Ada vicinity has become an epidemic and the streets are always supplied with some sort of vegetable and fruit.

The truck farmers are now organizing a truck farmers' association and a good market is assured for farm products here in local market.

But while organization is being perfected the local market is being supplied by just such men as Mr. S. J. Richmond, who has a five acre patch of the real Rocky Fords from which he has already marketed two hundred and forty five bushels on wagons in local streets. The fruit is demanding a steady price, retailing at three medium ten cents.

Mr. Richmond also has an acre of grapes which he will place on Ada's market soon.

Elegant Structures.

On the front page of the News will be seen photographs of Ada's $40,000 high school building and the East Central Normal school building as they will appear when complete. The High school building is nearing completion even now, and the first term of the Normal school will be conducted in this building. Ada is certainly to be congratulated on her present prospect as a school center, for it is such influences as these which will reclaim a community as nothing else can do and which have a tendency to give a city a high moral tone.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

RICH IN NEW HAY, FIVE THOUSAND BALES

James Cooper and Frank Colbert Have Been Pouring Prairie Hay on Local Market For Past Three Weeks.

The delightful fragrance which came from one hundred bales of hay fresh from the press attracted the News reporter this morning. Upon investigation, he found that one hundred bales comprised but two per centum of the entire yield of the meadows belonging to James Cooper and Frank Colbert who live on Jack Fork about nine miles from the local market. The hay is selling for about six dollars per ton. This output, it may be seen, will amount to something aggregating a thousand dollars of Uncle Sam's specie, and since it takes no Lincoln philanthropist to grow prairie hay, it is time some one were thankful for the rain already furnished them as well as time for a prayer for more moisture.

Negro Callers.

The New was very glad to hand the several Jack Fork and Spring Brook negro callers at the office, copies of the News containing the story of the Hatcher murder. Those negro callers at the office, who forgot to remove their hats until reminded will understand that it is the unvarying custom of all the News' negro subscribers and visitors to remove their hats while calling. The rule that the negro bare his head while in the News office is not of fitful pronouncement since the murderer by a negro of a white friend, it is in the raising and because it is right.

Even the News has been a little doubtful of the ability of Sheriff Tom Smith to conduct the office of sheriff with the courage and intelligence of which there has been such crying need. It is predicted that his experience during the late past together with the fidelity and courage of his deputies will enable his office to take care of the present delicate situation.

Drs. Castleberry & Massie.

The News calls the public's attention to the professional card of Drs. Castleberry and Massie appearing in the professional columns of this paper.

Dr. Castleberry, so well and favorably known is he, both personally and professionally, that any comment concerning him is passed, but in reference to Dr. Massie, new associate in the practice with this established Ada physician, it is stated that he is a graduate of the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery and latterly for three years made a special study of surgery and the diseases of women in the college of physicians and surgeons at Chicago in which institution he was engaged in much special practice.

Dr. Massie is from Ft. Worth where resides his father whom 'tis said is a distinguished physician and surgeon whose special care during late years has been the preparation of his son for the profession of medicine.

Dr. Castleberry's new associate appears to possess a personality and character which will award him a creditable position among Ada's splendid compliment of healers.

REUNION CLOSES.

Chickasaw Brigade Hold Three Days Reunion at Francis.

A three days reunion of the Chickasaw Brigade of Confederates Veterans was closed at Francis last evening. During the three days about one hundred veterans registered. The people of Francis had made ample provision for the old soldiers and they were cared for in elegant style. Ice water and provisions were furnished in profusion and every one who attended the three days encampment expressed their pleasure in having been present.

The Ada band furnished music for the occasion and a good program was rendered each day. On the second day Hon. Sidney Suggs, of Ardmore, delivered an address to the veterans. A barbecue dinner was served in the basement of the new school building, and in the afternoon an Indian ball game was played by the members of the Seminole tribe.

At an executive session of the brigade Mr. A. M. Crow, of near Ada, was elected general for the ensuing year.

Judge Owen on Guthrie.

Prof. Chas. Briles was sitting in front of the Lone Hotel the other day talking to his friend, Judge Tom Owen, of the criminal court of appeals. Suddenly there passed in full speed an automobile. Says Prof. Briles, "Haven't you got a speed regulation ordinance? There's danger in such speed."

"Think so!" responded the sage of Muskogee. "Do you see anything the length of this street 'collidable'?" It was true, not a thing in sight on Guthrie's main thoroughfare. Prof. Briles excused the apparent impertinency of his previous remark by quickly suggesting that it had momentarily escaped him that other city streets were not as the Ada streets, crowded with commerce and travel.

Ada in Progressive State.

Before twelve o'clock today the wagons and buggies of the farmers had taken posession of the downtown streets. The News reporter counted sixty-three wagons on three blocks of Main between one and two o'clock.

About three years ago the hustling business men of Ada decided that the town was getting too large to subsist on the yield of the town alone, therefore they went after manufacturing establishments and other enterprises, which would establish a pay roll. Now that they have secured a permanent pay roll and with such an increase in farm products the outcome of both forces boosting the momentum of progress which Ada has already is axiomatic.

OUR GUTHRIE CORRESPONDENT

Some of the partisan papers of the state are pretending that there is a great amount of friction between the board of public affairs and the board of agriculture and are publishing stories in regard to deadlocks, contests, etc., between these two boards. Such stories are all moonshine, there is absolutely no friction, and the friendliest of feeling exists. A friendly suit is now pending which will determine the duties of those two boards but which was not brought by either board. The question involved is whether or not agricultural school buildings should be built by the board of agriculture or the board of affairs. The board of agriculture maintains that it is their duty, and the proposition has never been disputed by the board of affairs. A contractor, who is doing the work, presented a claim to the state auditor for payment. The state auditor refused because it did not bear the O. K. of the board of affairs. The state auditor wants to be sure that he is right before he pays state money out. This is certainly commendable on his part. The contractor then brought an action of mandamus to compel the auditor to pay the warrant without the O. K. of the board of affairs which will have the effect of determining to a certainty whether or not it is necessary for the board of affairs to in any way act in the construction of agricultural school buildings. All reports of friction are entirely groundless.
